PREFACE

ENGLISH 900®, a course for students of English as a second language, contains material from beginning through intermediate levels of study. The whole series consists of textbooks, workbooks, and tape recordings, with a teacher's handbook.

ENGLISH 900® is one of the basic instructional courses in the Collier Macmillan English Program. Included in the Program is a series of graded readers in which six are keyed to the vocabulary and structure of each study unit in the basic texts of ENGLISH 900®.

The series takes its name from the 900 base sentences presented in the six textbooks. The sentences cover the basic structures and a basic vocabulary of the English language. They are introduced at the rate of fifteen in each study unit, or a hundred and fifty in each book, and are numbered consecutively from Base Sentence 1 in the first unit of Book One through Base Sentence 900 in the last unit of Book Six. These structures provide "building blocks" for all of the material studied in the series, e.g., there are approximately four variation sentences for each base sentence. As a part of his mastery of English, therefore, the student practices and learns approximately 3,600 variation sentences in addition to the basic 900 patterns.

There are ten study units in each textbook in the series. Each study unit contains a group of fifteen base sentences related to a meaningful situation. In Book One of the series, the typical study unit begins with the presentation of the fifteen Base Sentences together with Intonation patterns. Questions and Answers follow and give the student practice in pairing and matching the base sentences into conversational form. Substitution Drills introduce the variation sentences, using vocabulary and grammatical substitution techniques. These early sections of the unit provide the pronunciation practice and drill material needed for the mastery of language forms. The Conversation section consists of short dialogues giving the student the opportunity to practice the new lesson material in informal conversation in the classroom. Exercises in each unit can be used as oral and written drills for all of the materials introduced in the unit.

Units in the succeeding books in the series (Books Two to Six) contain Base Sentences, Intonation practice, Substitution Drills, Conversation, and Exercises, and, in addition, certain new features. Beginning with Book Two, a Reading Practice section is added to each unit, and, beginning with Book Three, a Verb Study section. Books Four, Five, and Six include Participation Drills for classroom use, and Books Five and Six present Grammar Study materials and review exercises.

Each textbook includes a Key to the exercises and a Word Index which lists in alphabetical order every word introduced in the book, and cites the sentence and unit number in which the new word first occurred. There are special Review Units in Books One through Four.

A companion Workbook is available for each of the six textbooks, and a series of 180 pre-recorded tapes has been prepared for language laboratory use. ENGLISH 900® Workbooks are unique in that they have been programmed for use by the student as home study material to reinforce classroom work. The Workbooks “test” the student on the textbook materials, and review the important points in each unit that he may not have mastered in class.

For classes that meet for three to five hours a week, each textbook in the series provides material for approximately three months of study. Suggestions for teaching the course, as well as detailed descriptions of all of the materials in ENGLISH 900®, have been given in the Teacher’s Manual which accompanies the series.

A wide range of material has been created for the Collier Macmillan English Program by the Materials Development Staff of English Language Services, Inc., under the co-direction of Edwin T. Cornelius, Jr. and Willard D. Sheeler. ENGLISH 900® was prepared under the direction of Edwin T. Cornelius, Jr., with Joyce R. Manes as Project Editor.

READING

Countries and Nationalities

The United States covers a large part of the North American continent. Its neighbors are Canada to the north, and Mexico to the south. Although the United States is a big country, it is not the largest in the world. In 1964, its population was over 185,000,000.

When this land first became a nation, after winning its independence from England, it had thirteen states. Each of the states was represented on the American flag by a star. All these states were in the eastern part of the continent. As the nation grew toward the west, new states were added and new stars appeared on the flag. For a long time, there were 48 states. In 1959, however, two more stars were added to the flag, representing the new states of Alaska and Hawaii.

Indians were the first inhabitants of the land which is now the United States. There are still many thousands of the descendants of these original inhabitants living in all parts of the country. Sometimes it is said that the Indians are "the only real Americans." Most Americans, however, are descendants of people who came from all over the world to find a new life in a new land. Those who came first and in greatest numbers to make their homes on the eastern coast of North America were mostly from England. It is for that reason that the language of the United States is English and that its culture and customs are more like those of England than of any other country in the world.

Questions

1. What countries are neighbors of the United States?
2. How many states were there at the beginning? How many are there now?
3. How are the states represented on the American flag?
4. Who were the first inhabitants of America?
5. Why are the customs and culture of the United States more like those of England than of any other country?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

Student A begins by reading the first speech in the Student A column. Student B listens to Student A's speech, then selects and reads the appropriate response from the second column. Student A replies to Student B with the appropriate response from the first column. (There is only one correct response to each speech.)

Continue the dialog selecting the proper speeches in sequence until the conversation is complete.

STUDENT A

I live in Washington, D.C. Where do you live?

No, I haven't lived in Washington all my life. I was born in Paris, France. I'm still a citizen of France. Have you retained your Japanese citizenship?

Yes, I'm going to return to Paris in time to celebrate Bastille Day, a national holiday almost like Independence Day in the United States. Oh, I miss Paris very much! Do you miss Tokyo?

Yes, Chicago has many more people than Washington—about five times as many. How many years have you lived in Chicago?

No, Washington isn't an industrial city, but it is a large metropolitan area. Is Chicago as large as Washington?

Yes, Washington is the capital. It's an historic city noted for its many famous buildings. Is Chicago an historic city?

STUDENT B

Yes, I do miss Tokyo. But now my home is in the United States and as a citizen I can vote in the national elections.

Chicago is an historic city, also, but it's mainly an industrial center. Washington isn't an industrial center, is it?

Chicago is much larger than Washington. According to the last census, the population of Chicago is over 3½ million. That's more people than Washington has, isn't it?

I'm now living in Chicago, Illinois. I used to live in Tokyo, the capital city of Japan. Washington is the capital of the United States, isn't it?

No, I'm not a Japanese citizen any longer. I'm now a naturalized American. Are you planning to return to France?

Five years. I've lived in Chicago ever since I came to the United States from Japan. You haven't lived in Washington all your life, have you?

Geography and Land Features

The geographical location of a country and its physical characteristics are very important to its development and progress. The United States is very fortunate in this respect.

First of all, it has a good climate. In almost all sections of the country it is possible to live comfortably during the whole year. It is true that in the south it sometimes gets very hot, and in the north very cold. But the people who live in these regions become accustomed to the climate and never suffer very much when the weather is either very hot or very cold.

In a large country there is usually a great variety of different physical characteristics. In the United States, there are wide plains and high mountains, thousands of lakes and rivers of all sizes, cool forests and hot deserts, and a coastline several thousand miles long.

The many lakes and rivers, as well as the long coastline, have been of great importance to the development of the country, since they made possible the easy transportation of people and all the things people need. Transportation by water is still necessary and important. In modern times, however, trains, automobiles, trucks and airplanes are doing much of the work which was formerly done by ships and boats.

Questions

1. In what respect is the United States very fortunate?
2. What can you say about the climate in the United States?
3. What kind of climate do you have in your country?
4. What are the principal physical characteristics of the United States? Of your country?
5. Why are rivers and lakes important?
6. Are there many rivers and lakes in your country?
Does your country have a coastline?
7. What is used for transportation in modern times?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

Student A begins by reading the first statement in the Student A column. Student B finds and then reads the correct response from the Student B column. Student A selects and then reads the correct response to Student B's speech. Continue until the conversation is complete.

STUDENT A

I've heard so much about Japan. Is it a beautiful country?

No, France isn't very mountainous. But it does contain the Pyrenees, a large mountain range with high peaks and deep canyons. What kind of climate does Japan have?

No, rice isn't grown in France. But farming, fishing and industry are very important in France also. I'd like to get to Japan some day. Would you like to visit France?

Yes, I do feel the same way about France. The swift rivers, the fertile valleys, the large cities—its scenery is beautiful. Will you describe the geography of Japan?

Yes, the climate of France is generally mild, but northern France often has severe winters. In southern France, one can live in comfort the whole year. Is Japan good for farming?

Oh, no, France isn't an island. It is located in the western part of the European continent. But France does have many fine harbors and port cities on its southern and western coasts. Does Japan have good harbors?

STUDENT B

Not everyone thinks Japan is beautiful, but to me its beauty is breath-taking. You feel the same way about France, don't you?

Yes, I'd like to visit France. I'd like to travel all over the world. As you describe it, France seems to be very much like Japan. I would like to see for myself.

Yes, Japan is good for farming. Rice is the main crop, but Japan is also an industrial center. Fishing is very important, too. Rice isn't grown in France, is it?

Yes, I'll describe Japan's geography. It's made up of four large islands located off the coast of Asia. France isn't an island, is it?

The Japanese climate is warm and moist in the south, mild in the central part and cold in the north. Except for Hokkaido, we don't get much snowfall at all. France has a mild climate, doesn't it?

Good harbors! Yokohama is one of the most famous port cities in the world. Japan is the largest ship-building nation in the world. Also, there are long mountain ranges in the southern islands. France isn't very mountainous, is it?

READING*Schools and Education

Life in the twentieth century demands preparation. Today, all individuals in a country must have adequate schooling to prepare them for their work as well as for their responsibilities as citizens. With this in mind, national leaders everywhere are placing more emphasis on the education of the young.

In the United States, government officials, parents, and teachers are working hard to give the children—tomorrow's decision makers—the best preparation available.

There is no national school policy in the United States. Each of the fifty states makes its own rules and regulations for its schools, but there are many similarities among the fifty school systems. Public schools in all states are supported by taxes paid by the citizens of the individual state. In most states the children are required to attend school until they reach the age of sixteen.

When they become six years old, children begin elementary school. After six years in elementary school, they go into junior high school and remain there for three years. The last three years of their public school education are spent in senior high school, from which they graduate at the age of eighteen.

A great number of high school graduates continue their education in one of the many colleges or universities in the country. After four years, they receive a bachelor's degree. Some continue studying for a master's degree and perhaps a doctor's degree.

Questions

1. At what age does a child in the United States enter elementary school?
2. Are public schools in the United States free to the students? Why?
3. How long does the law require that a student go to school in most states?
4. At what age do most students graduate from high school?
5. Why is education so important today?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

STUDENT A

I finally made it. I'm now a college graduate. Would you like to hear about it?

I made pretty good grades. I had B's in science and math, but I made straight A's in my major. What did you major in?

Yes, I was active in extracurricular activities. Because of my training on school newspapers since my junior high school years, I became editor of the Yale paper. Were you active in sports?

Yes, I'll go on for my Master's. I expect to teach history and government in a secondary school. Did you ever teach in a high school?

Yes, I should apply soon. I think I'll make an application for a position as graduate lecturer at Yale. Do you think I have a chance to get it?

Yes, I had to work very hard for my Bachelor's degree. I'm proud to be a graduate of Yale University. Were you proud to graduate from Yale?

STUDENT B

Yes, I was very proud to be a Yale man. I have a Master of Arts degree and my Ph.D. also. You're going on for your M.A. aren't you?

Yes, I taught in high school. That was before I became a college professor. You made good grades at Yale, didn't you?

I majored in child psychology. I was very interested in the way children learn to read and write. You were active in extracurricular activities, weren't you?

Yes, I think you have a good chance. You should go to the registrar's office and apply there.

Yes, I'd like to hear about it. You had to work hard to earn your Bachelor of Arts degree, didn't you?

Yes, I was active in sports. During my junior and senior years, I was on the Yale football team. If you're going to graduate school, you should apply soon, shouldn't you?

READING*Work and Careers

Sometimes we say that someone we know is “a square peg in a round hole”. This simply means that the person we are talking about is not suited for the job he is doing. He may be a bookkeeper who really wants to be an actor or a mechanic who likes cooking. Unfortunately, many people in the world are “square pegs”; they are not doing the kind of work they should be doing, for one reason or another. As a result they probably are not doing a very good job and certainly they are not happy.

Choosing the right career is very important. Most of us spend a great part of our lives at our jobs. For that reason we should try to find out what our talents are and how we can use them. We can do this through aptitude tests, interviews with specialists, and study of books in our field of interest.

There are many careers open to each of us. Perhaps we like science. Then we might prepare ourselves to be chemists, physicists, or biologists. Maybe our interests take us into the business world and such work as accounting, personnel management or public relations. Many persons find their place in government service. Teaching, newspaper work, medicine, engineering—these and many other fields offer fascinating careers to persons with talent and training.

Questions

1. Why is it important to find the right career?
2. Name three ways that we can find the right career.
3. What are some of the careers found in the scientific world?
4. What do we mean by “square peg in a round hole”?
5. Do you know anyone who is not happy in his work? Is he a “square peg in a round hole”?

46 UNIT FOUR

PARTICIPATION DRILL

STUDENT A

I'm looking for a job, sir. Can you help me?

No, I haven't graduated from college. But I did major in bookkeeping in business school. I worked as a bank teller, but my feet hurt from standing all day. Do you have a job where I can sit down?

Oh, yes, I take great pride in my work. When I had a job as a house painter, I sometimes spent all day just cleaning my brushes. But the paint gave me headaches. Can you tell me more about the waiter's job?

Yes, it does sound interesting. But I don't think I'm strong enough to lift those heavy trays. Do you have something that doesn't require lifting?

Yes, I've had other jobs. I worked as a conductor on a railroad, but the movement of the train made me sick. Do you have work that doesn't require travel?

No, I don't want a business career. I was a florist, but I didn't like it. The flowers made me sneeze. Can you suggest some other kind of work?

STUDENT B

I'll be glad to tell you more about that job as a waiter. You'll have excellent working conditions and a vacation every year. That sounds interesting, doesn't it?

Something that doesn't require travel? Let's see. I have a job for you as a waiter in a hotel restaurant. It's a good-paying job with many fringe benefits. You're efficient and you take pride in your work, don't you?

Of course, I can help you. The Acme Employment Agency has helped all kinds of people from missile experts to swimming teachers. You want a career in business, don't you?

Yes, I can suggest many other kinds of work. But first I must find out more about your training. You're a college graduate, aren't you?

You want a job that lets you sit? I think we can find one. But I must know more about your experience. You've had other jobs, haven't you?

No lifting? You can't lift, you can't travel, you can't stand up, and flowers and paint make you sick! You need a medical doctor more than a job. There's an MD in this building. I suggest that you go see him. Good-bye!

Farms and Factories

The Jensens are a typical American farm family. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen came from Norway many years ago and settled on a dairy farm in Minnesota. Their four children grew up there. The two boys, Olaf and Carl, helped their father take care of the farm. They plowed and planted the fields, harvested the crops and milked the cows. The daughters, Inga and Sigrid, helped their mother with the housework. There was always a lot to do and the whole family worked very hard.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Jensen are old and cannot work as hard as they did when they were younger. Their son Olaf runs the farm now and his wife and children help him. The work is not as hard now as it used to be. Olaf has bought several machines which do many of the things formerly done by hand.

The other three children have moved away. Sigrid married a farmer and lives nearby. Carl is living in Minneapolis where he has a good job as manager of a factory which makes dairy products. Some of the milk used by the factory comes from Olaf Jensen's farm. Inga went to the State University and is now teaching in a high school in St. Paul.

The story of the Jensens is not unusual. Although life on the farm has changed a great deal, farming is still a necessary and very important occupation. However, city life attracts young people like Carl and Inga Jensen. Every year many of them leave the farms and take jobs in the many factories which are located in or near large cities.

Questions

1. Describe the Jensen family.
2. What are some of the things that farmers do?
3. Do all of the Jensens still live on the farm?
4. What important products are made from milk?
5. Why is farming important?
6. Which do you prefer, farm life or city life? Why?

PARTICIPATION DRILL*STUDENT A

I want to buy a farm. I think I'd like to grow wheat. Is the ground here good for that?

Yes, I work only five days a week. But farming isn't so hard any longer, is it? Haven't tractors, reapers and other farm equipment revolutionized farming?

Yes, I do enjoy hard work. For years I have worked in a factory and punched a clock at the same time each day. Now I want to be a farmer. Don't you think farming is a wonderful life?

No, I've never owned a farm. I work in an automobile factory. Have you ever worked in a factory?

I don't mind getting up early each morning. I just want to get away from the factory. How nice it would be to raise cows and chickens or grow wheat and corn. Is your farm for sale?

Yes, we employ both males and females. Many of the women work as secretaries and clerks. Do you think farming is hard work?

STUDENT B

Yes, farming is very hard work. Plowing, planting, and harvesting mean long hours almost every day of the year. You work only five days a week, don't you?

Perhaps farming is a wonderful life, if you have warm and sunny weather and flat fertile land. But you have to get up at dawn each morning. You like to get up early, don't you?

Yes, modern farm equipment has revolutionized farming. But the farmer still must cut down trees, clear a lot of land and cultivate the soil. Do you enjoy hard work?

Yes, my farm is for sale. You can have it at a very low price. I'm going to the city to get a job in a factory and work only five days a week!

No, the ground here isn't good for wheat. The soil is too rocky. It isn't good for farming at all. You've never owned a farm, have you?

No, I've never worked in a factory, but many of my friends have. Your factory employs both male and female workers, doesn't it?

GRAMMAR REVIEW

Conditional Sentence Patterns

1. Conditional clauses with if and unless

Pattern A: Real Conditions

If the ground is	fertile,	it is good for farming.
If the ground isn't	fertile,	{ it isn't good for farming.
Unless the ground is	fertile,
If the ground is	hilly,
If the weather is	warm,	you can grow tobacco.
If the weather isn't	warm,	{ you can't grow tobacco.
Unless the weather is	warm,
If the weather is	cold,
If you cultivate	your land,	you will have good crops.
If you don't cultivate	your land,	{ you won't have good crops.
Unless you cultivate	your land,

Pattern B: Unreal Conditions

If the ground were	fertile,	it would be good for farming.
If the ground weren't	fertile,	{ it wouldn't be good for farming.
Unless the ground were	fertile,
If the ground were	stony,
If the weather were	warm,	you could grow tobacco.
If the weather weren't	warm,	{ you couldn't grow tobacco.
Unless the weather were	warm,
If the weather were	cold,
If you cultivated	your land,	you would have good crops.
If you didn't cultivate	your land,	{ you wouldn't have good crops.
Unless you cultivated	your land,

Pattern C: Unreal Conditions—past

If the ground had been fertile,	it would have been	good for farming.
If the ground had been stony,	it wouldn't have been	good for farming.
If the weather had been warm,	you could have grown	tobacco.
If the weather had been cold,	you couldn't have grown	tobacco.
If you had cultivated your land	you would have had	good crops.
If you hadn't cultivated your land,	you wouldn't have had	good crops.

2. Comparison—Simple statement and sentence pattern with the verb wish

	I work	five days a week.
I wish	I worked	only three days a week.
I wish	I had worked	only three days a week last year.
	I get	to work late once in a while.
I wish	I got	to work on time every day.
I wish	I had gotten	to work on time yesterday.
	I have to	work in a factory.
I wish	I didn't have to	work in a factory every day.
I wish	I hadn't had to	work in a factory last year.

Hobbies and Interests

From Monday until Friday most people are busy working or studying, but in the evenings and on weekends they are free to relax and enjoy themselves. Some watch television or go to the movies; others participate in sports. It depends on individual interests. There are many different ways to spend our spare time.

Almost everyone has some kind of hobby. It may be anything from collecting stamps to making model airplanes. Some hobbies are very expensive, but others don't cost anything at all. Some collections are worth a lot of money; others are valuable only to their owners.

I know a man who has a coin collection worth several thousand dollars. A short time ago he bought a rare fifty-cent piece worth $250! He was very happy about his purchase and thought the price was reasonable. On the other hand, my youngest brother collects matchboxes. He has almost 600 of them but I doubt if they are worth any money. However, to my brother they are extremely valuable. Nothing makes him happier than to find a new matchbox for his collection.

That's what a hobby means, I guess. It is something we like to do in our spare time simply for the fun of it. The value in dollars is not important, but the pleasure it gives us is.

Questions

1. What is a hobby?
2. Name three types of hobbies.
3. Is a hobby expensive?
4. Why is a hobby important?
5. Do you have a hobby? What is it?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

STUDENT A

My doctor says I need an outside interest to get my mind off my work. Can you suggest a hobby?

No, I've never had a stamp collection. But it takes a long time to build a good stamp collection, doesn't it?

Yes, I am interested in sports. I want something I can do on weekends. Do you think golf or tennis would take my mind off my job?

No, I don't want to buy expensive equipment. I just want an avocation that is relaxing and enjoyable. Do you think collecting umbrellas would be interesting?

Yes, my job is very tiring. I'm a professional photographer of movie stars. Wouldn't that tire you out?

Yes, I play the clarinet and the violin, but I want to do something different. What is your hobby?

STUDENT B

My hobby is stamp collecting. I've just started collecting stamps and it's a lot of fun. Have you ever had a stamp collection?

Yes, I think they would. Golf and tennis are very enjoyable, but they can be tiring. Is your job very tiring?

Yes, building a good collection takes a long time, but a rare set of stamps can be very valuable. I can see that you're not interested in stamp collecting, but how about sports?

No, taking pictures of movie stars wouldn't tire me out at all. Your profession would make a good hobby for me.

Yes, I can suggest a hobby. Electronics might be fun, but you don't want a hobby that requires a lot of expensive equipment, do you?

Collecting umbrellas! I've heard of a lot of unusual hobbies, but I've never heard of that one. You don't play a musical instrument, do you?

READING

Recreation and Sports

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is a popular saying in the United States. Other countries have similar sayings. It is true that all of us need recreation. We cannot work all the time if we are going to maintain good health and enjoy life.

Everyone has his own way of relaxing. Perhaps the most popular way is to participate in sports. There are team sports, such as baseball, basketball, and football. There are individual sports, also, such as golf and swimming. In addition, hiking, fishing, skiing, and mountain climbing have a great attraction for people who like to be outdoors.

Not everyone who enjoys sporting events likes to participate in them. Many people prefer to be spectators, either by attending the games in person, watching them on television, or listening to them on the radio. When there is an important baseball game or boxing match it is almost impossible to get tickets; everybody wants to attend.

Chess, card-playing, and dancing are forms of indoor recreation enjoyed by many people.

It doesn't matter whether we play a fast game of ping-pong, concentrate over the bridge table, or go walking through the woods on a brisk autumn afternoon. It is important for everyone to relax from time to time and enjoy some form of recreation.

Questions

1. What is meant by the expression: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy"?
2. Why is recreation essential?
3. Name three team sports.
4. Name two forms of indoor recreation.
5. What is your favorite form of recreation?

PARTICIPATION DRILL*STUDENT A

I haven't had much exercise lately. My only recreation has been watching TV or going to the movies. What do you do for recreation?

Yes, lifting weights will build muscles, but it can also make them very sore. I don't think I would care for that kind of activity. Have you ever gone to any ball games?

Yes, my favorite sport is track. I watched a track meet on TV last night. My nephew ran the quarter mile. Have you ever been on a track team?

Yes, I enjoy sleeping on the ground under the stars. It's very relaxing. If you don't use your camping equipment, will you lend it to me sometime?

Yes, team sports are fun. I enjoy watching baseball and football on TV, but I don't particularly like to play these games. Have you ever gone camping?

No, I don't like to swim very much. However, I do like to sit and fish. Do you like to go fishing?

STUDENT B

Yes, I've been to many baseball and football games and I like to play also. Team sports are very enjoyable, don't you think?

I'll be glad to lend you my camping equipment, but all this talk about exercise has made me tired. Let's go to the movies.

No, I don't care for fishing. Some of my friends like to go to a gym for a workout. Lifting weights will build arm and shoulder muscles, won't it?

For recreation, I like to play tennis in the summer. My favorite winter sport is skiing. You have a favorite sport, don't you?

I went camping just once. I had to buy a tent, sleeping bag, lantern, and other supplies. I haven't used them since. I don't like sleeping on the ground, do you?

No, I've never been on a track team. In college, I was on the swimming team. I enjoyed that. You enjoy swimming, don't you?

READING

Newspapers and Magazines

The American humorist, Will Rogers, used to say, "All I know is what I read in the newspapers". This was an exaggeration for humorous purposes, but it is true that newspapers are an important source of information. Many people begin their day by reading the paper. In this way they learn what is going on in the world. Sometimes, however, they don't have time to read the news carefully and must be satisfied with a quick look at the front page; at other times they may be in such a hurry that they have time only to glance at the headlines.

There are newspapers to satisfy every reader. In the big cities there are many types of papers, with several different editions every day. In small towns there are fewer newspapers and perhaps only one edition each day. In some areas the paper is printed weekly.

Most newspapers have several sections, especially on Sundays when the edition is larger than usual. There are, in addition to the front page with the most important news, the sports section, the society page, the comics, the amusement section, a business page, and the editorials.

Another type of publication which helps keep the population informed is the magazine. Some magazines are published weekly; others are put out monthly. There are news magazines, literary magazines, and magazines for such special interests as photography, sports, art, and music. Some are primarily for men, others for women, and there is a selection of children's magazines, too. In the United States, there are publications for every taste and interest.

Questions

1. What is the function of a newspaper?
2. Why is a newspaper important?
3. Name three sections of a newspaper.
4. What is the purpose of headlines?
5. Name three types of magazines.
6. What magazines do you read? What newspapers do you read?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

STUDENT A

I have subscriptions to two newspapers. One is put out in the morning and the other is published in the afternoon. Do you subscribe to any papers?

No, I don't read the entire paper, just the parts that interest me. I glance at the headlines, but I carefully read the sports page and the business section. Do you read those?

Yes, I read that article about the earthquake. That was a terrible disaster. So many people were killed! Do you think newspapers should print stories like that?

Yes, I suppose disasters are news, too. It just seems to me that newspapers would be more pleasant to read if they had a larger society section and more comic strips. Don't you like to read articles about celebrations and happy events?

I'm sure they do need a large circulation. Of course, much of a newspaper's income comes from advertisements. Have you ever put an ad in the paper?

Yes, it is nice to have the papers dropped off at my door each day. That way I'm sure not to miss any of my favorite sections. Doesn't the size of the daily paper surprise you?

STUDENT B

Yes, I once put an ad in to sell my lawn furniture. I sold it very quickly. But a newspaper is more than just ads. I try to read the whole paper, don't you?

Certainly they should! Newspapers must print stories about disasters. They're part of the news of the day and people want to read about them. Don't you agree?

Yes, the size certainly does surprise me. The newspaper staff—the reporters, writers, editors, and linotype operators—must be busy continuously. They need a large circulation to support such a staff, don't they?

No, I don't subscribe to any newspapers. I buy my papers at the newsstand. But it's nice to have a newspaper delivered to your door each day, isn't it?

Yes, I enjoy reading about celebrations. But since you don't like to read unhappy news, why do you subscribe to two newspapers? If I were you, I wouldn't read a newspaper at all.

No, I'm not very interested in sports or business, but I do read the editorials and the news section. You saw the article about the earthquake in Japan, didn't you?

Radio and Television

There are few homes in the United States today that do not have either a radio or television set. Both of them have become an essential part of our daily life, keeping us informed of the news of the day, instructing us in many fields of interest, and entertaining us with singing, dancing, and acting.

Marconi, the Italian inventor who gave us the radio, probably didn't realize what effects his great invention would have on the world in the years to come. Radio has, perhaps, had as much influence on the world as any other communications device. Events of universal interest can be reported to the entire globe a few seconds after they happen. Explorers in remote areas, ships at sea, even astronauts circling the earth are able to keep in touch with civilization by means of radio.

Television is another major instrument of communication, permitting us to see as well as to hear the performer. Since its appearance, TV has had a tremendous effect on the daily life of people everywhere.

Improvements of all kinds are constantly being made in television so that reception will be as close to perfect as possible. Many programs are now televised in color.

Perhaps the most recent advancement of significance has been "Telstar." This specially-equipped space capsule, orbiting the globe, makes it possible for the entire world to be closer than ever before. Now a family in Chicago can watch on TV an auto race in Italy, a ski tournament in Norway, or a parade in Japan as these events are actually happening!

Questions

1. Who invented the radio?
2. Mention three uses of radio and television.
3. What is "Telstar"? Why is it important?
4. Do you listen to the radio? What type of program do you prefer?
5. Do you watch television? What type of program do you like best?

PARTICIPATION DRILL*STUDENT A

I just bought a new radio. Do you have one?

No, I haven't had any trouble with my set. Perhaps Ed can fix your radio. He's an electrical engineer, you know. Do you want his telephone number?

No, I don't get any static on my set. But you don't have a console model that has to be plugged in an electrical outlet. You have a portable, so I don't see how your neighbor's stereo can cause you trouble. Do you think your tubes are wearing out?

Yes, I often listen to the radio from the time the network stations come on the air until they sign off. Do you get good reception on your radio?

No, I don't have a TV set, but my brother has one with a 21-inch picture tube. I often visit him and watch the sports programs and the news shows. What kind of TV do you want to buy?

Yes, it is enjoyable. I get good reception on my radio. It's a transistor set. What kind of radio do you have?

STUDENT B

My radio is a portable set, too, but I get both AM and FM stations on it. I listen to the radio a lot, don't you?

No, I haven't been getting good reception lately. There's something wrong with the set. You haven't had any trouble with your set, have you?

No, thanks, I have his phone number. Anyway, I know what's wrong with it. When my neighbor plays his stereo, I can't hear the radio programs because there is too much static. That hasn't happened to you, has it?

I want to buy a TV with a larger screen than your brother has. I need a more powerful set to overcome my neighbor's stereo. Then he can worry about the static from my TV set.

Oh, yes, I have a radio. I've had one for several years. Listening to the radio is very enjoyable, isn't it?

No, I don't think my tubes are wearing out. I've just had them checked. Anyway, I don't want to spend a lot of money fixing it. I'm saving my money to buy a TV set. You don't have a TV set, do you?

READING

Mark Twain
(Samuel Langhorne Clemens)
1835-1910

No author in American literature is better known or more loved than Samuel Langhorne Clemens. Born in Missouri in 1835, he grew up on the banks of the Mississippi River and later adopted the pen name of "Mark Twain" from the call of the boatmen on the Mississippi as they measured the depth of the river. The river environment inspired the two novels which brought him his greatest fame: Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn. Another book, Life on the Mississippi, told of his adventures on the river boats of that period.

It was during the Civil War that Mark Twain's life as a writer started. At that time he was working as a newspaper man in Nevada and California. His short story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," was an immediate success and his new career began.

In 1870, Mark Twain married Olivia Langdon. He had fallen in love with her picture even before he met her. According to his biographers, his wife had a great influence on Twain's later books.

Mark Twain was also a very successful lecturer. His travels around the country giving talks on a variety of subjects helped make him famous and increased the sale of his books.

Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn are considered Twain's best works. They are marked by humor and satire and provide his readers with an excellent picture of his era. His last book was completed in 1909, one year before his death. He was then 74 years old.

Questions

1. Where did Mark Twain grow up?
2. What was his real name?
3. Name three of Mark Twain's writings.
4. How did Mark Twain fall in love with his wife?
5. Besides writing, what else did Mark Twain do?
6. What two books are considered Twain's best works? Why?

PARTICIPATION DRILL

The dialogs below are similar to the previous participation drills in Book Six, except that these contain two complete conversations rather than one.

Student A: Begin conversation (1) by reading the first speech in the Student A column.

Student B: Listen to Student A's speech. Then select and read the appropriate response from the Student B column.

Student A: Reply to Student B with the appropriate response from the first column. (Only one response to each speech is correct.)

Continue the dialog selecting the proper responses in sequence until conversation (1) has been completed. Then follow the same procedure for conversation (2).

STUDENT A

- (1) I went to a concert last night to hear the symphony orchestra. They played beautifully. Do you like classical music?
- (2) I just finished reading a biography of George Washington. I've never read a more fascinating story. Have you read any biographies of Washington?

Yes, I do enjoy folk music. Just because I like classical music doesn't mean I don't enjoy other kinds. I like jazz and popular songs, too. Do you play a musical instrument?

Yes, I do like biographies better than novels, but I think I enjoy reading poetry most of all. I find a great poem fascinating because it stimulates my imagination. Do you like poetry?

Yes, I've played the piano for over fifteen years. I've given several recitals and have had my compositions performed by some well-known orchestras. Have you ever done any composing?

No, I don't understand much of the modern poetry, either. Of course, many great writers were not fully understood while they were alive. Why must a writer be dead a long time before he is appreciated?

Yes, it is stimulating to hear my compositions performed. I suppose writing anything and having it understood and accepted is satisfying. Would you like to go with me to hear the symphony orchestra?

STUDENT B

I've composed a few melodies—nothing very professional. It takes imagination and artistry to write even a short piece of music. It's thrilling to hear your music performed by famous artists, isn't it?

I like only certain kinds of poems. For me to enjoy it, a poem must be either realistic or humorous. I don't care for romantic or sentimental poetry. I don't understand the "modern" poetry of some of our contemporary writers, do you?

No, I don't care for classical music very much. I like folk songs. I find that listening to one man playing a guitar and singing folk ballads is an exciting experience. You don't care for folk songs, do you?

Yes, I'll be glad to hear the symphony orchestra. Then, when there's a recital of folk ballads, perhaps you'll go with me. In that way, I may learn to appreciate both kinds of music.

I'm not sure why many writers are not fully appreciated until long after they die. Perhaps it is because they are so far ahead of their time. Years after their death people finally accept their ideas.

Yes, I play the trumpet. At one time I even thought of becoming a professional musician and playing in a dance band. You play the piano, don't you?

Yes, I've read two biographies of Washington. Besides describing his life, they gave vivid descriptions of the frontier life in the United States. I enjoy biographies more than novels, don't you?
